Harvey Software Announces MACH Software as Featured Business Partner

FORT MYERS, FL – March 14, 2014 – Harvey Software, Inc., announced today it has selected MACH Software as a Harvey Software Featured Business Partner.

“Shippers today want their shipping software system working in sync with all of their business processes in a streamlined, cost-efficient, tightly integrated solution,” said Terry Kennedy, Chief Operating Officer of Harvey Software. “The powerful combination of MACH Software’s order management system and Harvey Software’s CPS™ multi-carrier shipping software provides users a complete, fully-integrated duo to manage their entire business. From our experience in working with MACH Software over the years, we find them to be a great company,” Mr. Kennedy continued. “To help our customers, we constantly search for companies that share the same level of service offerings and customer service commitment as Harvey Software. Shipping is complicated enough without the shipping software not easily cooperating with other vital business process software. When we find a winner like MACH Software, we highlight them as part of our business partner program as a Featured Harvey Software Business Partner to let our customers and prospective customers know,” Mr. Kennedy stated.

MACH Software recently published an article based on feedback about 3rd party solutions their customers use to bring their systems together titled "Evaluation of Three Manifest Systems: Harvey Software CPS Basics, USPS Endicia, UPS Worldwide". Not surprising is the level of customer satisfaction that MACH Software users enjoy due to the MACH Software/Harvey Software partnership.
